

To whom it may cocern, I benefit from using XM satelllite radio and its traffic and weather channels. I drive alot in mountainous and remote areas that don't have regular radio reception. Being able to recieve these broadcasts using XM satelllite radio is the only reliable means for weather related issues. The areas I frequent can have sudden weather changes that I need to know about in advance. Respectfully, Dan Wilson